Professional Experience

Freelance Web Developer.

Sydney, NSW, Australia, 2010 - present

I have spent the last year working as a freelancer for agencies and studios such as Holler, There, Make Agency, Halfnine, and Maxco as well as directly to my own client base I have built over five years previously through word of mouth. I developed a range of sites and games, using Codeigniter, jQuery and Flash extensively.

Lead Developer. Belgiovane Williams MacKay

Sydney, NSW, Australia, 2009 - 2010

I managed a small team of four front end developers and was the back end developer for Sydney agency BWM. I was responsible for the timely delivery of a range of campaign based websites for clients such as Telstra, nib and Yellow Pages.

Flash Developer. Soap Interactive

Sydney, NSW, Australia, 2008

I was a Flash developer for Soap, working in AS3 on games and sites. I worked for clients such as Marvel Comics, 3 Mobile and Fox Searchlight.

Senior Developer. M&C Saatchi / Mark

Sydney, NSW, Australia, 2003 - 2008

Working for five years at M&C Saatchi I was part of the rise of one of Australia's premier digital agencies. I started as the sole developer on a digital team of 8, and left a specialist digital agency of over 70. I held final responsibility for projects across a broad range of clients, producing campaign based microsites, Flash games and larger builds. I worked on clients such as Optus, Woolworths, ANZ, and Qantas.

Web Developer. Proximity BBDO London

London, United Kingdom, 2000 - 2002

I started my Web Development career with Proximity BBDO as a Junior Flash Developer, and over the next two years rose to become a Senior Developer. I learned my PHP and MySQL skills on the job on clients such as British Telecom, and Royal Mail.
